A MESSAGE FROM MORGAN

As we enter 2026, I want to wish you and your family a happy new year and take a moment to share some accomplishments my team and I worked to secure for Louisville in the first half of the 119th Congress.

Reflecting on the past year, I know it's been a difficult one for many of us, but I'm also reminded of how much we've been able to accomplish. Despite a cruel, hostile administration and Republican infighting, I worked with leaders across the aisle to introduce and pass meaningful legislation that will make a real difference in the lives of Louisvillians — policies that put the needs of working families, veterans, and our kids above all else.

Here are a few bright spots: We secured more than $163 million in federal grant funding to revitalize Louisville neighborhoods, businesses, infrastructure, and schools. That's on top of the over $5.8 million in backpay and benefits our constituent services team recovered that went straight into Louisvillians' pockets.

We also responded to over 72,000 constituent emails and calls, met with over 260 Louisvillians, and listened to you in 17 community town halls and 26 roundtables. These aren't just stats — these are the calls, emails, conversations, and personal stories that guide my work for you in Congress. A lot of my work this year — from supporting small business owners with disabilities to protecting the Ohio River to banning no knock warrants at the federal level — came directly from conversations with Louisvillians.

Our community also faced hardship, pain, and loss this year. Masked ICE agents terrorized our immigrant communities, families and businesses struggled under Trump's economic policies, and we lost neighbors, loved ones, and friends in the UPS Flight 2976 crash. We're still recovering, but the support of our fellow Louisvillians helped us get through these dark moments. I am grateful to live in — and represent — a city where we take care of each other so willingly and compassionately.

While we have made progress, we have our work cut out for us this year. My team and I remain committed to working on issues that impact all of us, like rising grocery and housing costs, affordable health care, and continued attacks on our rights — these are big problems that require bold, thoughtful action.

There are also local issues that we can assist people with right now, like passports, immigration issues, and benefits. That's why I'm proud to have a team of some of the most compassionate, dedicated individuals who work around the clock to make sure we're doing all we can to help our community.

I appreciate every opportunity to hear your concerns and fight for you in Washington — it's the honor of a lifetime to serve you and your family in Congress and get the chance to make a meaningful impact in the city we all love.

I'm looking forward to all that we can accomplish in the new year and beyond!

Sincerely,
